WHO'S WHO IN THE CAST

JOHN CARRADINE (Jonathan Brewster) who was born in New York City, has appeared in many films over the past ten years. In addition he has had his own repertory company in which he toured in "Othello," "Hamlet," and "Merchant of Venice." Now that the war is over, Mr. Carradine again expects to appear in Shakespearean roles. Some of his pictures include "les Miserables," "Winterset," "Mary of Scotland," "Captain's Courageous," "Drums Along the Mohawk," "Grapes of Wrath," "Blood and Sand," "Hitler's Madman," "Adventures of Mark Twain," and "Practically Yours."

RICHARD CHARLTON (Mortimer Brewster) steps into the role played by Cary Grant in the movies after five years in the Army. Mr. Charlton is also assistant director at the Ivoryton Theatre for the season.
